

BIAS AND KIDS

FRIDAY MARCH 15TH 6-7:30PM

Bias and Kids

Most people agree that children need healthy, loving, supportive environments to thrive. But, as parents, family members, teachers, neighbors, and voters—how do our biases influence how we interact with the children in our lives and communities? And, how do those biases influence how children perceive themselves and what they will become? During our conversation led by Verónica Nuñez and Kyrié Kellett, we will reflect on how our biases—conscious and unconscious, related to gender, race, class, culture, and other traits—shape everything from our subtle interactions with the kids we care for to the way we make political decisions that influence children in our society.

Conversation Hosts:

Kyrié Kellett

Verónica Nuñez

The Conversation Project brings Oregonians together to talk--across differences, beliefs, and backgrounds--about important issues and ideas.

COOS HISTORY MUSEUM

1210 N Front St.

(541)756-6320